

ELECTRIFICATION 2026

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE & EXPOSITION

Powering Progress · June 23-25, 2026 · Baltimore, MD

Why Exhibit

Exhibiting will provide you with a premier platform to advance your organization's electrification initiatives by:

- Directly engaging with leaders and influencers in your field to learn more about customer needs;
- Establishing partnerships that can lead to new opportunities for your business;
- Highlighting your industry leadership, as well as your latest end-use electrification developments, to potential customers, suppliers and collaborators;
- Pursuing opportunities with utilities on efficient and equitable electrification programs for home, business and transportation applications; and
- Gaining and sharing insights into research, policy and technology to further guide the transition to end-use electrification in dynamic and diverse markets.

Who Will Attend

We anticipate around 2,000 attendees from across the globe representing all sectors of electrification. Some of our most represented sectors include utilities, manufacturers/vendors, commercial and industrial building managers and owners, government, NGO, trade associations, and tech start ups.

Who Should Exhibit

Companies and organizations from a wide range of sectors can benefit from a presence in the Exhibit Hall:

- Utilities and other fuel (e.g., hydrogen) suppliers
- Manufacturers of electric technologies related to transportation, HVAC, industrial processes, smart homes, consumer goods and more
- Electric vehicle, charging and other e-mobility manufacturers and vendors
- Developers of industrial and vehicle automation technologies
- Solar, wind and other renewable energy companies
- Technology and communication providers
- Government agencies and laboratories
- Universities with breakthrough technology programs
- Industry, environmental and consumer associations
- Consulting organizations specializing in environmental analyses, energy efficiency, transportation planning and other renewable initiatives
